

CD SERIES
A TRADITIONAL CHAPEL SINGS GREGORIAN CHANT
ST. JOHN SCHOLA, SAN FRANCISCO

The St. John Schola is a traditional men's chant choir, whose purpose is to foster the traditional Roman chant, known as Gregorian chant, not as mere secular performance, but in the actual religious setting for which it was composed, the pre-Vatican II (1950) fully Traditional Latin Mass and Divine Office of the classical Roman Rite.

The recordings in this St. John Schola series consist of live recordings of the type of chant pieces that may be used at traditional churches and chapels. It makes no pretense to being professional, but to what is achievable, with a little work, by the average small lay choir. Free music sheets are available to accompany the recordings.
